

Get £50 cash back when you introduce a friend to Vale Financial Training.

To qualify for this offer, the person introducing the friend must be a current student at Vale Financial Training who has enrolled and paid for at least one paper for the current sitting.

The new student must not have previously studied with us.

The Introduce a Friend offer will only be paid to the person introducing the student when cleared funds have been received in payment for the course. This applies to the person making the introduction and to the friend.

The discount will be deducted from any fees repaid if the course is cancelled prior to the course commencement date.

- To receive your £50, email accounts@valefinancialtraining.com with your bank details and the name of the student you have introduced. As soon as their course fees are paid, you will receive your £50.
